

14 February 2025

Dear colleague

We're pleased to share some updates from the NMC and EdQA team for your information.

2023-24 Annual Self Reporting (ASR) reminder

We have now sent the ASR request and held two drop in sessions to support AEI colleagues who are busy coordinating responses on behalf of the AEI and their practice learning partners. If you have any questions after watching the video walkthrough then please email them to us: QATeam@nmc-uk.org

Please note, the deadline for submission of Part one and Part two of the ASR23/24 is Tuesday 25 February 2025.

As this is a pilot of a new approach, we're keen to know what you've thought of this ASR – early verbal feedback from AEI colleagues has been very positive - but we'll be asking AEIs to complete a brief (and anonymous) feedback form. Your engagement with this feedback will be greatly appreciated and influential in shaping the future of annual self reporting – please take the opportunity to have your say!

Post registration webinars

We're holding two webinars to help post registration students and practice learning partners (PLPs) to understand, interpret and apply our proficiency standards.

NMC Education Advisers, students and PLPs will provide examples of learning from case studies that demonstrate how competence can be achieved across some of the standards of proficiency. There will also be an opportunity for Q&A.

The sessions are open to everyone but are particularly aimed at post registration SCPHN/SPQ students, and PLPs. We'd appreciate it if you could share this information so that as many students and PLPs as possible can attend:

11 March, 13:00 -14:00 – for SCPHN (register here)

13 March, 13:00 -14:00 – for SPQ (register here)

Practice learning review

In case you missed it, last month NMC Council agreed recommendations for the next steps of our practice learning review. You can read more about the five lines of enquiry we're pursuing here.

New NMC Chief Executive and Registrar

Last month we also welcomed Paul Rees as our new Interim Chief Executive and Registrar. Paul will help us to establish a working environment where NMC colleagues can thrive. We will also maintain our focus on the NMC's core role in education and standards. Read more about Paul here.

New format for monthly updates

Lastly, we wanted to make you aware that the next update and all subsequent Education QA updates will be sent from a different email system. To make sure these emails don't go into your junk folder, please add 'info@nmc-news.org.uk' to your safe senders list.

We hope this has been helpful.

Best wishes,

The Education QA (EdQA) Team
