Unless Mrs Lynch’s case has already been concluded, this interim order should be reviewed every six months.

At any review the panel may revoke the interim order or any condition of it, it may confirm the interim conditions of practice order, or vary any condition of it, or it may replace the interim conditions of practice order with an interim suspension order. In certain circumstances, it may be possible for the interim order to be reviewed by a panel at an administrative meeting. Mrs Lynch’s case officer will write to her about this in due course.

Mrs Lynch should notify the NMC immediately of any material change of circumstances that may affect the interim order.

At any time, Mrs Lynch or the NMC may ask for the interim order to be reviewed by a panel if any relevant new information becomes available.

This decision will be confirmed to Mrs Lynch in writing.

The NMC Case Examiners are yet to decide whether there is a case to answer in relation to the allegation made against Mrs Lynch. The NMC will write to her when the case is ready for the next stage of the fitness to practise process.

That concludes this determination.
