The panel decided to confirm the interim conditions of practice order and it will run for the remainder of the current interim order.

Unless Ms Robertson's case has already been concluded, this interim order must be reviewed before the end of the next six months and every six months thereafter. Additionally, Ms Robertson or the NMC may ask for the interim order to be reviewed if any new evidence becomes available that may be relevant to the interim order.

At any review, the reviewing panel may revoke the interim order or any condition of it, it may confirm the interim conditions of practice order, or vary any condition of it, or it may replace the interim conditions of practice order with an interim suspension order.

In certain circumstances, it may be possible for the interim conditions of practice order to be reviewed by a reviewing panel at an administrative meeting. Ms Robertson's case officer will write to her about this in due course.

A panel of the Fitness to Practise Committee has still to deal with the allegations made against Ms Robertson. The NMC will keep Ms Robertson informed of developments in relation to that issue.

This will be confirmed to Ms Robertson in writing.

That concludes this determination.
