Decision and reasons on interim order

The panel decided to confirm the current interim suspension order.

Unless there has been a material change of circumstances, a reviewing panel will review the interim suspension order at an administrative meeting within the next six months. The reviewing panel will be invited by the NMC to review the interim suspension order at this meeting and Mr Khan will be notified of that panel's decision in writing following that meeting.

Alternatively, Mr Khan is entitled to have the interim suspension order reviewed at a hearing. This means that Mr Khan will be able to attend and make representations, send a representative on Mr Khan's behalf or submit written representations about whether the interim order continues to be necessary. Mr Khan must inform his case officer if he would like the interim suspension order to be reviewed at a hearing.

Even if Mr Khan does not request a hearing, where there has been a material change of circumstances that might mean that the interim order should be revoked or replaced, a reviewing panel will review the interim suspension order at a hearing which Mr Khan and his representative will be invited to attend.

Mr Khan should notify the NMC immediately of any material change of circumstances that may affect the interim order.

At any time, Mr Khan or the NMC may ask for the interim order to be reviewed by a panel if any relevant new information becomes available.

The NMC Case Examiners are yet to decide whether there is a case to answer in relation to the allegations made against Mr Khan. The NMC will write to Mr Khan when the case is ready for the next stage of the fitness to practise process.

This will be confirmed to Mr Khan in writing.

That concludes this determination.
