Section two

Summary of review and findings

The University of Salford (UoS) is an established approved education institution (AEI). The AEI are seeking a major modification to the postgraduate diploma specialist community public health nursing (SCPHN) health visiting (HV) and school nursing (SN) apprenticeship routes with integrated end point assessment. The programme is delivered in partnership with the approved employer partner (EP) Northern Care Alliance NHS Trust and meets the Standards of proficiency for specialist community public health nurses (SPSCPHN) (Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC), 2004). The programme is originally approved by the NMC on 30 July 2021.

The modification adds the community practitioner nurse prescriber (V100) programme to the list of optional modules approved as part of the SCPHN programme. A major modification to the UoS independent and supplementary nurse prescribing (V300) programme on 24 May 2022 to include the V100 route is recommended for approval to the NMC.

There's evidence of stakeholder consultation and involvement in the modification. Changes are agreed through the programme advisory group which includes practitioners and student representatives. Service users (SUs) are consulted separately and support the initiative.

The EP has requested the introduction of the V100 programme into the SCPHN programme as an optional module. The V100 is applied for by applicants in the SCPHN recruitment process. They're required to provide evidence of employer support to ensure they're supernumerary, have a prepared prescribing practice assessor and practice supervisor identified and that they can meet the requirements of V100 as part of the SCPHN programme. SCPHN apprentices undertaking V100 will learn alongside other specialist and advanced practice apprentices undertaking the V300 programme. They'll be able to use recognition of prior learning if required to undertake the V300 programme in the future.

The V100 is mapped to the SPSCPHN and programme outcomes. Its achievement will contribute to the overall achievement of the SPSCPHN. Learning in the V100 is integrated into the SCPHN theoretical and practice programme hours, and maintains the balance of 50 percent theory and 50 percent practice.

Apprentices are supported to utilise evidence from their learning and development in the V100 module to contribute to achievement of the SPSCPHN.

The Standards for nursing and midwifery education (SFNME) (NMC, 2018) and the Standards for student supervision and assessment (SSSA) (NMC, 2018) are both met at programme level.

The major modification is recommended for approval.

Findings against the standard and requirements

Provide an evaluative summary about the effectiveness of the partnerships between the AEI and their practice learning partners, service users, students and any other stakeholders.

The modification is co-produced with key stakeholders. The introduction of V100 is identified by EPs as an important requirement for HV and SN apprentices. There's evidence of EP consultation, a record from the ongoing curriculum advisory group, an online survey and specific networking events. EPs confirm they're supportive of the introduction of an optional V100 programme for SCPHN HV and SN apprenticeships. There's evidence that the advisory group oversee the modification to the SCPHN programme. This group includes EPs and apprentices. There's evidence of SUs' consultation and that they support the inclusion of the V100.

The SCPHN recruitment process to include V100 is appropriately modified. Applicants who undertake V100 as part of the HV or SN route are required to complete a separate V100 application form with written manager confirmation of support. This confirms that applicants will practice in, and have appropriate experience of, a learning environment where there's an identified need for regular V100 prescribing within the field of SCPHN practice. This includes working with EPs to allocate suitable practice assessors and practice supervisors with a prescribing qualification and who actively prescribe. The SCPHN programme lead will confirm this requirement is met prior to commencement of the programme. Additional entry requirements are clearly identified in student facing documentation.

SUs are involved in setting questions for interviews and are engaged in teaching and assessing. UoS are currently actively working to increase the number and diversity of SUs who will further enhance the engagement and future co-production in the programme.

There's regular training in place to prepare V100 practice assessors and practice supervisors for the introduction of V100 into the programme.

EPs support the introduction of V100 in both HV and SN routes. There's a current statement of commitment between the EP and UoS to confirm that adequate resources are in place to support the modified programme. This includes protection of supernumerary status.

The V100 is included as an optional module in the SCPHN degree apprenticeship HV and SN routes. The V100 outcomes are mapped to the SPSCPHN and contribute to the SCPHN programme learning outcomes. Apprentices undertake V100 within the context of their field of SCPHN practice.

The programme handbook confirms that successful completion of V100 as part of the SCPHN programme provides eligibility to record the V100 qualification on the NMC register. Apprentices are informed in student facing documentation that this won't be recorded without achievement of the SCPHN qualification.

The programme comprises 120 academic credits with core and optional modules. Core modules are focused on the development of community public health with specialist HV or SN modules. 45 academic credits of optional modules are included in the programme structure. These are designed to enable apprentices to focus on particular areas of practice development. V100 adds to the current list of approved optional modules. It's a 15-credit module delivered at academic level seven. Apprentices undertaking V100 will study this in semester two. The module has 65 hours direct lecturer and seminar time and 85 hours directed study. Apprentices are required to complete 65 hours (10 days) prescribing specific practice-based learning. These are integrated into the approved SCPHN practice hours and retain an equal balance of theory and practice.

Standard 6: Content of curriculum

- The content of the curriculum for specialist community public health nursing programmes should be that which will enable the achievement of the standards of proficiency sufficient for safe and effective practice for entry to the register as a specialist community public health nurse.
- Where a student intends to work in a particular area of practice, content must enable sufficient learning to take place within that area to ensure safe and effective practice. The outcomes and standards for proficiency should be read in conjunction with the guiding principles.

The V100 is mapped into the programme as an optional module and contributes to the achievement of the standards of proficiency for safe and effective practice. The SCPHN programme handbook provides apprentices with guidance on how the content, learning and assessment in the V100 module contributes to the achievement of the SPSCPHN and the SCPHN portfolio.

Curricula vitae demonstrate that teachers have appropriate qualifications to deliver V100 to HV and SN apprentices. There's evidence in the prescribing application process that EPs are required to provide prepared practice assessors and practice supervisors to support apprentices undertaking V100. They must be registered healthcare professionals who are current prescribers and have undertaken appropriate preparation. The programme team confirm that, as good practice, V100 prescribing practice assessors will normally be different to the SCPHN practice assessor.

Placement areas are educationally audited using the northwest learning environment educational audit to provide assurance that apprentices placed within each clinical setting have sufficient resources and expertise to support them. There are additional questions on placement quality relevant to prescribing in the separate V100 application form.

Standard 10: Assessment

- A range of assessment strategies should be used throughout the programme to test knowledge and standards of proficiency in all aspects of the specialist community public health nursing curriculum. These must include at least one timed examination under invigilated conditions. This requirement excludes any examinations that may be required for nurse prescribing associated with health visiting.

V100 is assessed through an examination that meets the requirements of the Standards for prescribing programmes (NMC, 2018). This is added to the existing SCPHN assessment strategy, it doesn't replace the existing assessment strategy. Prescribing practice is assessed against the Competency framework for all prescribers (Royal Pharmaceutical Society, 2021), in a separate prescribing portfolio. Apprentices can also record evidence of learning from V100 in the SCPHN portfolio.
