This updated document was published March 2017
This document is for nurses and midwives who are registered with the NMC. It sets out how to renew your registration with the NMC through revalidation every three years.

The requirements for revalidation are either prescribed in the Nursing and Midwifery Order 2001 (the Order)¹ and the Education, Registration and Registration Appeals Rules (the Rules)², or are standards set by the NMC for revalidation and readmission.³

These requirements are effective from April 2016 and replace the requirements for renewal set out in the Prep (Post Registration Education and Practice Standards) handbook.⁴

About the NMC

The Nursing and Midwifery Council exists to protect the public. We do this by making sure that only those who meet our requirements are allowed to practise as a registered nurse or midwife in the UK.

We take action if concerns are raised about whether a registered nurse or midwife is fit to practise.
How to use this document

This document gives an overview of the revalidation process which you will have to complete every three years in order to renew your registration. It sets out our recommendations for how you approach the process and collect the required information.

It includes a checklist of the revalidation requirements and the supporting evidence for each requirement.

On pages 17-36 we present each requirement, followed by further information to help you understand and meet the requirement. This information sets out:

• the purpose of the requirement;
• how you can comply with the requirement;
• our recommended approach to collecting and recording the required information, and
• how to demonstrate to us that you have met the requirement in your online application.

You should read this document in conjunction with the Code and other guidance on our website. We have published a range of resources that you might find helpful in preparing for revalidation, including completed templates and case studies. We have also provided information for confirmers, which you should ensure that your confirmer has read, as well as information for employers, which we recommend you encourage your employer (if appropriate) to read.

Please note that you must still pay your annual registration fee every year to retain your registration with the NMC.

How the NMC will use your information

As part of the revalidation process you are required to submit information about yourself to the NMC. We will only process your personal data, as permitted by the Data Protection Act 1998 (‘DPA’).

Details of our data protection policy are included in our privacy notice at:
www.nmc.org.uk/privacy

We will use your personal data for the purposes of administering and assessing your revalidation application and any subsequent verification of that application. We may also use information obtained through the revalidation process for research, and for the purpose of maintaining and improving our internal systems and processes.

We expect you to adhere to the conditions for how to meet the requirements set out in this guidance and in the information for confirmers and employers (if appropriate). Examples of these conditions include (but are not limited to) avoiding conflicts of interest and having your reflective discussion with an NMC registrant. We also expect you to provide accurate information in your online application. If there are grounds for believing that you have not met these conditions, and/or that you have made a false declaration as part of your revalidation application, we will investigate and your registration could be at risk. Information supplied by you may be used to investigate any alleged breach of the Code and for the purpose of any subsequent fitness to practise proceedings.
How to contact the NMC

For more information please see the revalidation section of the NMC website at: www.nmc.org.uk. If you are unable to find the information you need and you still require further help you can email us at: revalidation.escalation@nmc-uk.org.

If you wish to make a complaint about the standard of our service, please visit the ‘Contact us’ pages of our website at www.nmc.org.uk/contact-us/complaints-about-us.

WHAT IS REVALIDATION?

Revalidation

• is the process that allows you to maintain your registration with the NMC;
• demonstrates your continued ability to practise safely and effectively, and
• is a continuous process that you will engage with throughout your career.

Revalidation is the responsibility of nurses and midwives themselves. You are the owner of your own revalidation process.

Revalidation is not

• an assessment of a nurse or midwife’s fitness to practise;
• a new way to raise fitness to practise concerns (any concerns about a nurse or midwife’s practice will continue to be raised through the existing fitness to practise process), or
• an assessment against the requirements of your current/former employment.

Why we introduced revalidation

• to raise awareness of the Code and professional standards expected of nurses and midwives;
• to provide you with the opportunity to reflect on the role of the Code in your practice as a nurse or midwife and demonstrate that you are ‘living’ these standards;
• to encourage you to stay up to date in your professional practice by developing new skills and understanding the changing needs of the public and fellow healthcare professionals;
• to encourage a culture of sharing, reflection and improvement;
• to encourage you to engage in professional networks and discussions about your practice, and
• to strengthen public confidence in the nursing and midwifery professions.

Revalidation and the Code

One of the main strengths of revalidation is that it reinforces the Code by asking nurses and midwives to use it as the reference point for all the requirements, including their written reflective accounts and reflective discussion.

This should highlight the Code’s central role in the nursing and midwifery professions and encourage nurses and midwives to consider how it applies in their everyday practice.

The Code (paragraph 22) requires you to fulfil all registration requirements. To achieve this you must:

• meet any reasonable requests so we can oversee the registration process (22.1);
• keep to our prescribed hours of practice and carry out continuing professional development activities (22.2), and
• keep your knowledge and skills up to date, taking part in appropriate and regular learning and professional development activities that aim to maintain and develop your competence and improve your performance (22.3).
Overall, revalidation should lead to improved practice and therefore public protection benefits.

- Safe and effective practice in line with the Code
- Practice hours: helps you maintain safe and effective practice while keeping your skills up to date.
- Confirmation: provides assurance, increases support and engagement between nurses and midwives and their confirmers.
- CPD: reduces professional isolation through engagement while increasing skills and awareness.
- Professional indemnity arrangement: is a legal requirement for all healthcare professionals.
- Practice-related feedback: helps you become more responsive to the needs of patients, colleagues and service users which will improve practice.
- Written reflective accounts: helps you identify changes or improvements to make and embed the Code in your practice.
- Health and character: satisfies the Registrar that you are capable of safe and effective practice.
- Reflective discussion: cultivates a sharing reflective culture that focuses on improvement.
- Confirmation: provides assurance, increases support and engagement between nurses and midwives and their confirmers.
These are all of the requirements that you must meet in order to complete your revalidation and renew your registration every three years with the NMC.

Understand key terms

1. The registration process: Every three years from when you join (or re-join) the register you will need to renew your registration by revalidating. Every year you will also need to retain your registration by paying an annual registration fee. If you don’t complete these processes on time your registration will expire.

2. Fee expiry date: The deadline for paying your annual registration fee in order to retain your registration.

3. Revalidation application date: The deadline for submitting your revalidation application. It is the first day of the month in which your registration expires, so if your renewal date is 30 April, your revalidation application date will be 1 April.

4. Renewal date: The date on which your registration will be renewed if you have successfully completed your revalidation application. It is the last day of the month in which your registration expires.

Keep a portfolio

5. We strongly recommend that you keep evidence that you have met the revalidation requirements in a portfolio. This does not necessarily need to be an e-portfolio; please see our guidance sheet on e-portfolios at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information for further information. We have provided forms and templates to help you record your evidence for each requirement; these are available at the end of this document and on our website at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/forms-and-templates, where there are also examples of completed forms and templates for you to refer to.

6. We expect any evidence to be kept in English, and nurses and midwives must submit their revalidation application, and any subsequent verification information, in English.

7. The NMC recognises the culture and linguistic needs of the Welsh speaking public (for further information please see www.nmc.org.uk/about-us/our-equality-and-diversity-commitments/welsh-language-scheme). We have published Welsh language versions of our guidance for nurses and midwives, confirmers and employers, as well as our templates and forms, on our website at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

8. You may already keep a professional portfolio. If so, you do not need to maintain a separate portfolio.
9. You can use the checklist on page 8 to make sure that all of the information is in your portfolio before you have your confirmation discussion with your confirmer or submit your revalidation application.

10. We recommend that you keep your portfolio until after your next revalidation. For example, if you revalidated in 2016, we suggest that you should keep your portfolio until after you have revalidated again in 2019.

11. Your portfolio must not record any information that might identify an individual, whether that individual is alive or deceased. This means that all information must be recorded in a way that no patient, service user, colleague or other individual can be identified from the information. The section on non-identifiable information on pages 14-16 provides guidance on how to make sure that your portfolio does not contain any information that might identify an individual.

Conflicts of interest and perceptions of bias

12. A conflict of interest is a situation that has the potential to undermine your impartiality or objectivity. Examples of conflicts of interest are personal or commercial relationships.

13. You need to be mindful about any personal or commercial relationship between you, your confirmer and your reflective discussion partner. It would not be appropriate for a family member or person with whom you have a close personal relationship to undertake those roles. You, your confirmer and reflective discussion partner will need to take responsibility for deciding whether there is any conflict of interest or perception of bias to ensure that the confirmation process and reflective discussion retains credibility and remains objective. In some cases you might decide to use a different person as your confirmer and reflective discussion partner.

Appraisals

14. Many nurses and midwives have an employer. It is important for their employers to be aware of the Code and the standards expected of registered nurses and midwives in their professional practice.

15. Appraisals are a way for employers to assess the performance of their employees against the requirements of their role and identify areas for improvement and development.

16. The revalidation process is designed so that it can be undertaken as part of a regular appraisal. If you are an employee who does not have a regular appraisal you could consider asking your employer to arrange an appraisal for you in advance of your revalidation application date.

17. The confirmation discussion has a different purpose from an appraisal, as it is about demonstrating to an appropriate confirmer that you have met the revalidation requirements, not the requirements of your employment (please see the section on Confirmation on pages 34-36 for more details). However, it can be incorporated into an appraisal, and we recommend that, where possible, your confirmation discussion forms part of an annual appraisal, if you have one.

18. If your line manager is an NMC-registered nurse or midwife, you might like to have both your reflective discussion and your confirmation discussion as part of an annual appraisal, if you have one.
19. You might find it helpful to have a discussion with your confirmer every year as part of an annual appraisal, so that you can keep them updated on your revalidation.

20. If you are not an employee, or if you are an employee who has been unable to arrange an appraisal in advance of your revalidation application date, you will still be able to renew your registration by meeting the revalidation requirements. You are not required to arrange for another person or organisation to conduct an appraisal for the purposes of revalidation, but you will still need to arrange your reflective and confirmation discussions.
21. You are likely to process personal data as part of your day to day role. If you are employed, you are likely to be covered by your employer’s registration under data protection legislation. If you are practising as an independent or self-employed nurse or midwife you are already likely to be registered under data protection legislation in your capacity.

22. This section sets out your obligations in relation to confidentiality and data protection in relation to meeting the revalidation requirements. It does not cover your existing obligations in relation to data protection legislation.

Personal data means data which identifies an individual. Section 1(1) of the Data Protection Act 1998.

Your obligations in relation to confidentiality under the Code

23. The Code sets out the professional standards that you must uphold in order to be registered to practise in the UK. Paragraph 5 of the Code states:

Respect people’s right to privacy and confidentiality

As a nurse or midwife, you owe a duty of confidentiality to all those who are receiving care. This includes making sure that they are informed about their care and that information about them is shared appropriately.

To achieve this, you must:

• respect a person’s right to privacy in all aspects of their care (5.1)
• make sure that people are informed about how and why information is used and shared by those who will be providing care (5.2)
• respect that a person’s right to privacy and confidentiality continues after they have died (5.3)
• share necessary information with other healthcare professionals and agencies only when the interests of patient safety and public protection override the need for confidentiality, and (5.4)
• share with people, their families and their carers, as far as the law allows, the information they want or need to know about their health, care and ongoing treatment sensitively and in a way they can understand. (5.5)
Making sure that your evidence does not include any personal information

24. In meeting the revalidation requirements and keeping your evidence, you must not record any information that might identify an individual, whether that individual is alive or deceased. This means that all information recorded must be recorded in a way that no patient, service user, colleague or other individual can be identified from the information.

25. For example, any notes or reflections must not include:
   - the name of any individual;
   - the date of any incident or event referred to;
   - the particular ward or place where the event occurred, or
   - descriptions of unique circumstances where an individual could be identified from the circumstances.

26. Any information extracted from employer data (such as complaints logs) must be extracted in a way that no information identifying an individual is obtained, used or recorded. For example, you must not forward work emails to your personal account, or download and take copies of employer records.

Example scenarios

27. You will already be aware of the importance of keeping personal information confidential, and not processing personal information outside of your employment or work settings. However, we have provided some simple examples below to demonstrate how an instance of feedback could be recorded in a way that no individual can be identified.

Scenario 1

In January 2015 Mrs Jones was in ward 8 with a broken hip. She made a complaint about lack of hydration. You want to use this feedback in one of your reflections as an example of where you put in place a new process to make sure all patients were offered water on a regular basis.

In your reflective account you could say: ‘A patient with a serious injury made a complaint about lack of hydration.’

No dates, names or wards have been included in the record, and the type of injury has also been omitted, so Mrs Jones cannot be identified from this information. You can then explain what you did, what improvement you made and how this is related to the Code.
Scenario 2

In reviewing the complaints log held by the maternity unit where you work, you noticed a complaint made by Mrs Smith in relation to a lack of continuity of care and handover between midwives at the end of a shift on 12 January 2015. You were one of the midwives involved, along with your colleague Sarah. You discussed this with your colleagues and have made improvements in the way you handover at the end of shifts. You want to use this feedback in one of your reflections.

Before writing your reflective account, you need to check with your employer that you can use information from the complaints log. In your reflective account you could say: ‘A complaint was received from a mother about the lack of continuity of care and handover between myself and a colleague at the end of a shift’.

No information identifying any individual, including both the mother and your colleague, has been included in this record. You can then explain what you did, what improvement you made and how this is related to the Code.

Storing your reflective accounts form, reflective discussion form and confirmation form

28. You are not required to submit these forms to the NMC at any point in the revalidation application. There is no requirement to store them electronically or upload them into NMC Online as part of your application, or if you are selected to provide further information to verify your evidence.

29. Your reflective discussion form and confirmation form contain personal data about another person. This means that there are data protection implications for nurses and midwives completing these forms. However, the Information Commissioner’s Office (ICO) recognises that it would be highly disproportionate to expect nurses and midwives to have to register with them as data controllers. The ICO has confirmed that it is not planning to take any action against any nurse or midwife for failing to register.

30. You may choose to store your completed reflective discussion and confirmation forms in either paper or electronic format. You should still respect the fact that these forms contain personal data about your reflective discussion partner and confirmer. Please see our guidance sheet on e-portfolios for further information at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

They have also published guidance specifically on anonymisation at ico.org.uk/for-organisations/guide-to-data-protection/anonymisation.
The requirements

31. You must have practised for a minimum number of hours over the three year period since your registration was last renewed or you joined the register.6

</tr>
</tbody>

A specialist community public health nurse (SCPHN) means a registered nurse or midwife who is also registered in the Specialist Community Public Health Nurses’ part of the register.

32. If you have practised for fewer than the required number of hours in the three year period since your registration was last renewed or you joined the register; then you must successfully complete an appropriate return to practice programme approved by the NMC before the date of your application for renewal of registration.7

33. Registered nurses or midwives who are admitted to another part of the register since their registration was last renewed or they joined the register only need to meet the practice hours requirement for their initial registration. They will need to meet the practice hours requirements for registration in both parts in subsequent three year renewal periods.8
The purpose of these requirements

34. The practice hours requirements are designed to help nurses and midwives to maintain safe and effective practice, and keep their skills up to date.

How to meet the requirements

35. You can only count practice hours that you undertook while you were registered with the NMC. You cannot count unregistered practice towards the practice hours requirement.

36. You must meet your practice hours in a role where you rely on your skills, knowledge and experience of being a registered nurse or midwife.
   • This includes practice as a nurse, midwife and SCPHN, in roles that are likely to require registration;
   • This also includes nurses and midwives who rely on their skills, knowledge and experience of being a registered nurse or midwife, but are in roles where their employment contract does not expressly require them to be registered with us. For example, this could include roles in public health or nursing or midwifery management, commissioning, policy and education;
   • This may include work done in voluntary roles, where a nurse or midwife is relying on their skills, knowledge and experience of being a registered nurse or midwife.

37. The following activities cannot be counted towards the practice hours requirement:
   • Hours undertaken in any healthcare, nursing or midwifery assistant or support worker roles cannot be counted towards practice hours as a registered nurse or midwife.
   • Nurses undertaking an 18 month midwifery programme cannot use their midwifery training hours in order to maintain their registration as a nurse. They will be able to use any practice hours undertaken as a nurse, either before or after their midwifery course, during the three year period.
   • Practice hours should reflect your current scope of practice. Practice hours do not have to be related to your original field of practice when you first joined the register. Irrespective of your role, you must comply with The Code: professional standards of practice and behaviour for nurses and midwives. This includes the duty to recognise and work within the limits of your competence.

38. If you are working overseas (or have worked overseas for part of your three year renewal period) as a nurse or midwife you can meet the practice hours on the basis of your registration with the NMC. You should always register with the appropriate regulator in the country in which you are practising.

39. If you have had a career break, you will still be able to meet the practice hours requirement if you have completed the required hours of practice as a registered nurse or midwife during your three year renewal period.

40. We have produced two guidance sheets on practice hours, one for those who are registered as both a nurse and a midwife, and one for those with additional specialisms or register entries, including those who are a midwife/SCPHN but only practising in a SCPHN role. Please see our website at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

Further information on working outside the UK and returning to practice can be found on our website www.nmc.org.uk/registrations
41. If you have not undertaken any type of work where you relied on your skills, knowledge or experience as a registered nurse or midwife, or if you are unable to meet the practice hours requirement, you have two options:

   • You can successfully complete an appropriate NMC approved return to practice programme before the date of your revalidation application. These programmes are designed to allow you to renew your registration and return to practice after a break in practice. Further information about return to practice programmes is available on our website at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/returning-to-the-register/return-course, or

   • You can cancel your registration. You will continue to hold a nursing or midwifery qualification, but will not be a registered nurse or midwife. You can apply for readmission to the register in future if you wish to practise as a nurse or midwife. Information on cancelling registration and seeking readmission to the register is available on our website at www.nmc.org.uk/registration.

42. If you choose not to renew your registration and lapse from the register [which includes cancelling your registration], you cannot rely on any hours of work you undertook in a role after the date you ceased to be registered for the purpose of seeking readmission to the register. Unregistered practice does not count towards meeting the readmission requirements.

How to record practice hours

43. We strongly recommend that you maintain a record of practice hours you have completed. This will form part of the discussion you have with your confirmer, and you will also need to have this information available in case we request to see it for verification of your application. We have provided a template to help you record your practice hours. Your records should include:

   • dates of practice;
   • the number of hours you undertook;
   • name, address and postcode of the organisations;
   • scope of practice (see tip box below);
   • work setting (see tip box below);
   • a description of the work you undertook, and
   • evidence of those practice hours, such as timesheets, job specifications and role profiles.

44. You do not necessarily need to record individual practice hours. You can describe your practice hours in terms of standard working days or weeks.

What you need to tell us in your online application

45. When you apply for revalidation, you need to declare that you have met the practice hours requirement. You only need to tell us about the most recent hours you have undertaken to meet the minimum requirement for your registration[s]. If you are currently practising in more than one setting, please tell us first about the one that you consider to be your main setting.
46. You will also be asked to enter the following details:
   - whether you are currently practising;
   - if you are currently in practice, where you undertake that practice, including details of your scope of practice and work setting, and
   - if you are not currently in practice, where you undertook your most recent practice, including details of your scope of practice and work setting.

47. In the tip box below we list the scope of practice and work setting options we include in the online application. However, you should be aware that we selected these options to help us capture your scope of practice and work setting information. Whether your scope of practice and work setting correspond to options from these lists, or whether you select ‘Other’ for one or both lists, it is still up to you to decide whether you meet the practice hours requirement by practising in a role where you rely on your skills, knowledge and experience of being a registered nurse or midwife.

48. If you have completed a return to practice course or been admitted to another part of the register your practice hours declaration will be as follows:
   - If you have recently completed an approved return to practice course since you last renewed your registration or joined the register, you will be able to meet the practice hours requirement for that registration.
   - If you have been admitted to another part of the register since you last renewed your registration or joined the register (for example you are a nurse who has undertaken training as a midwife and gained a second registration as a midwife), you only need to meet the practice hours requirement for your initial registration.
   - For further information about what you will need to tell us for the practice hours part of your revalidation application in these circumstances please see our guidance sheet at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

49. Please note that next time you apply for revalidation, if you wish to renew your registration on both parts of the register and continue practising as both a nurse and a midwife, you will need to meet the practice hours requirements for both parts.

Scope of practice

- Direct clinical care or management: adult and general care nursing; children's and neo-natal nursing; mental health nursing; learning disabilities nursing; midwifery; health visiting; occupational health; school nursing; public health; other.
- Commissioning, Education, Policy, Quality assurance or inspection, Research, Other.

Work setting

- Ambulance service, Care home sector, Community setting (including district nursing and community psychiatric nursing), Consultancy, Cosmetic or aesthetic sector, Governing body or other leadership, GP practice or other primary care, Hospital or other secondary care, Inspectorate or regulator, Insurance or legal, Maternity unit or birth centre, Military, Occupational health, Police, Policy organisation, Prison, Private domestic setting, Public health organisation, School, Specialist or other tertiary care including hospice, Telephone or e-health advice, Trade union or professional body, University or other research facility, Voluntary or charity sector, Other.
The requirements

51. You must have undertaken 35 hours of continuing professional development (CPD) relevant to your scope of practice as a nurse or midwife, in the three year period since your registration was last renewed or you joined the register.⁹

52. Of those 35 hours of CPD, at least 20 must have included participatory learning.¹⁰

53. You must maintain accurate records of the CPD you have undertaken. These records must contain:
   • the CPD method;
   • a description of the topic and how it related to your practice;
   • the dates on which the activity was undertaken;
   • the number of hours (including the number of participatory hours);
   • the identification of the part of the Code most relevant to the activity, and
   • evidence that you undertook the CPD activity.¹¹

The purpose of these requirements

54. As a professional, you have a duty to keep your professional knowledge and skills up to date through a continuous process of learning and reflection.

55. The CPD requirements are designed to help nurses and midwives to maintain safe and effective practice, to improve practice or develop new skills where a gap has been identified and to respond to changes and advances in nursing and midwifery.

56. The participatory requirement also helps to challenge professional isolation by requiring learning through engagement and communication with others.
How to meet the requirements

57. CPD is a learning activity that you undertake separately from your normal practice. This is different from the everyday learning that all healthcare professionals will engage in as part of their ongoing practice.

58. Any learning activity you participate in should be relevant to your scope of practice as a nurse or a midwife. When you plan, undertake and record your CPD you should focus on what you are learning, how it is linked to your scope of practice and how you can apply it to your practice.

59. We do not prescribe any particular type of CPD. We think that you are better placed to decide what learning activity would be most suitable and beneficial to your individual scope of practice. We have produced a guidance sheet that lists some individual and participatory CPD activities that you can undertake (see revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information). It is not an exhaustive list and we have only provided it as an example.

60. We know that many organisations require their staff to undertake mandatory training. You should not include mandatory training that is not directly related to your practice (for example, fire training or health and safety training) as part of your 35 hours of CPD. However, if you undertake any mandatory training that is necessary to your scope of practice and professional development (for example, mandatory training on equality legislation if you are in a policy role), you could include that.

61. Participatory learning includes any learning activity in which you personally interact with other people. It is an activity undertaken with one or more professionals or in a larger group setting. The group does not always need to be in a common physical environment, such as a study group or conference. It could be a group in a virtual environment (such as an online discussion group). The professionals that you engage with through participatory learning do not have to be healthcare professionals.

How to record CPD

62. You must maintain accurate records of your CPD activities, and we have provided a template to help you with this. This will form part of the discussion you have with your confirmer, and you will also need to have this information available in case we request to see it for verification of your application. Your records should include:

- the CPD method;
- a brief description of the topic and how it relates to your practice;
- dates the CPD activity was undertaken;
- the number of hours and participatory hours;
- identification of the part of the Code most relevant to the CPD, and
- evidence of the CPD activity (we provide examples of the kind of evidence you can record in a guidance sheet; see revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information).

What you need to tell us in your online application

63. You need to declare that you have met the CPD requirement.
The requirement

64. You must have obtained five pieces of practice-related feedback in the three year period since your registration was last renewed or you joined the register.12

The purpose of this requirement

65. The practice-related feedback requirement is intended to encourage nurses and midwives to be more responsive to the needs of patients and service users and those who care for them. Nurses and midwives need to seek feedback from those they work with and care for and importantly they need to use the feedback that they receive to assess and make improvements to their practice.

How to meet the requirement

66. We recommend that you try to obtain feedback from a variety of sources, for example:
   - feedback from patients, service users, carers or students as part of your day to day practice;
   - feedback from colleagues such as nurses, midwives and healthcare professionals;
   - feedback from colleagues in management, on reception, in assistant positions, as well as fellow teachers, researchers, academics or policy colleagues;
   - complaints;
   - team performance reports;
   - serious event reviews, and
   - feedback received through your annual appraisal.

67. Types of feedback:
   - feedback can be about your individual practice or about your team, ward, unit or organisation’s practice (you should be clear about the impact the feedback had on your practice);
   - formal or informal;
   - written or verbal, and
   - positive or constructive.
68. It’s likely that you will already receive a range of feedback. In many organisations, feedback is already collected in a variety of ways. You must seek consent to access or use your employer’s information. Any information must be extracted in a way that no information identifying an individual is obtained, used or recorded. For example, you must not forward work emails to your personal accounts, or download and take copies of employer records. See the section on non-identifiable information on pages 14-16 for more information.

69. Should you choose to solicit feedback directly from colleagues, patients or service users, you must make clear in your request that no information identifying individuals should be included in any feedback provided. You should also inform them how you intend to use their feedback, and reassure patients that any feedback they give will not affect the care they receive.

How to record feedback

70. We recommend that you keep a note of the content of any feedback you obtain, including how you used it to improve your practice. This will be helpful for you to use when you are preparing your reflective accounts. We have provided a template to help you record your feedback.

71. You may choose to collect more feedback but to meet the revalidation requirement you only need to note the details of five pieces of feedback.

72. In any note you keep, you must not record any information that might identify an individual, whether that individual is alive or deceased. The section on non-identifiable information on pages 14-16 provides guidance on how to make sure that your notes do not contain any information that might identify an individual.

What you need to tell us in your online application

73. You need to declare that you have met the feedback requirement.
The requirement

74. You must have prepared five written reflective accounts in the three year period since your registration was last renewed or you joined the register. Each reflective account must be recorded on the approved form and must refer to:
   • an instance of your CPD and/or
   • a piece of practice-related feedback you have received and/or
   • an event or experience in your own professional practice and how this relates to the Code.

The purpose of this requirement

75. We want to encourage nurses and midwives to engage in reflective practice so that they identify any changes or improvements they can make to their practice based on what they have learnt.

76. This requirement should also raise awareness of the Code and encourage nurses and midwives to consider the role of the Code in their practice and professional development.

How to meet the requirement

77. Each reflective account can be about an instance of CPD, feedback, an event or experience in your practice as a nurse or midwife, or a combination of these. For example, you could create a reflective account on a particular topic which may have arisen through some feedback your team received following an event, such as consent and confidentiality and identify how that relates to the Code.
How to record your reflective accounts

78. We have provided a form that you must use to record your reflective accounts. You must explain what you learnt from the CPD activity, feedback, event or experience, how you changed or improved your practice as a result, and how this is relevant to the Code.

79. This form can be hand written, typed or, if necessary, dictated.

80. Your reflective accounts must not include any information that might identify an individual whether that individual is alive or deceased. The section on non-identifiable information on pages 14-16 provides guidance on how to make sure that your reflective accounts do not contain any information that might identify an individual.

81. You are not required to submit a copy of the reflective accounts to the NMC. However, you should retain these as a record to inform your reflective discussion and to show your confirmer.

What you need to tell us in your online application

82. You need to declare that you have met the requirement for written reflective accounts.
The requirement

83. You must have had a reflective discussion with another NMC registrant, covering your five written reflective accounts on your CPD and/or practice-related feedback and/or an event or experience in your practice and how this relates to the Code.13

84. You must ensure that the NMC registrant with whom you had your reflective discussion signs the approved form recording their name, NMC Pin, email, professional address and postcode, as well as the date you had the discussion14

The purpose of this requirement

85. This requirement will encourage a culture of sharing, reflection and improvement. It does this in two ways: by requiring nurses and midwives to discuss their professional development and improvement, and by ensuring that nurses and midwives do not practise in professional isolation.

How to meet the requirement

86. You must discuss your written reflective accounts with an NMC-registered nurse or midwife as part of a reflective discussion. In the discussion you and your reflective discussion partner will be linking your reflective accounts to the Code, so it is important that both of you are familiar with, and working to, the professional standards presented in the Code. The nurse or midwife must have an effective registration with the NMC, by which we mean they cannot be subject to any kind of suspension, removal or striking-off order at the time of having the discussion.

87. They could be someone you frequently work with or someone from a professional network or learning group. You do not need to work with them on a daily basis and you do not need to undertake the same type of practice. You do not need to be on the same part of the register as them (so a nurse can have a reflective discussion with a midwife and vice versa). It is for you to decide the most appropriate person for you to have this conversation with, including whether they are senior or junior to you.

88. If your confirmer is a nurse or midwife, your reflective discussion can form part of the confirmation discussion. If your confirmer is not a nurse or midwife, you will need to have your reflective discussion with an NMC-registered nurse or midwife before your confirmation discussion with your confirmer.

89. If you practise in a setting with few or no nurses or midwives, you can reach out to NMC-registered peers from your wider professional or specialty network in order to have your reflective discussion.

90. We expect the discussion to be a face-to-face conversation in an appropriate environment. If for some reason you cannot have a face-to-face discussion, then you could arrange a video conference.
91. During your discussion you should not discuss patients, service users or colleagues in a way that could identify them unless they expressly agree. For further information on reflective discussions please see our guidance sheet at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

How to record your reflective discussion

92. We have provided an NMC form that you must use to record your discussion. You must make sure that the nurse or midwife with whom you had your reflective discussion signs the form and records their name, NMC Pin, email, professional address including postcode, contact number and the date you had the discussion and a summary of the discussion. You should keep the completed and signed form.

93. The discussion summary section of the form must not include any information that might identify an individual, whether that individual is alive or deceased. The section on non-identifiable information on pages 14-16 provides guidance on how to make sure that your notes do not contain any information that might identify an individual.

What you need to tell us in your online application

94. You need to declare that you have had a reflective discussion with another NMC-registered nurse or midwife.

95. You will also need to enter the name, NMC Pin, email, professional address including postcode and contact number of the nurse or midwife with whom you had the discussion, as well as the date you had the reflective discussion.
The requirements

96. You must provide a health and character declaration.
97. You must declare if you have been convicted of any criminal offence or issued with a formal caution.
98. You will be asked to declare if you have been subject to any adverse determination that your fitness to practise is impaired by a professional or regulatory body (including those responsible for regulating or licensing a health and social care profession).

The purpose of these requirements

99. These requirements will help to satisfy the Registrar that the nurse or midwife is capable of safe and effective practice.

How to meet the requirements

100. You will need to complete these declarations as part of your revalidation application.
101. When making these declarations please refer to our health and character guidance for nurses and midwives at www.nmc.org.uk/cautions-convictions where there is also information on declaring police charges, cautions and convictions.
102. Your character is important and is central to the Code because nurses and midwives must be honest and trustworthy. Your character is based on your conduct, behaviour and attitude. You must declare if you have been convicted of any criminal offence or issued with a formal caution. In accordance with the Code, we expect you to declare any cautions and convictions to the NMC immediately, not just at the point of revalidation.
103. You will also be asked to declare if you have been charged with a criminal offence or if you have been subject to any determination by a professional or regulatory body (including those responsible for regulating or licensing a health or social care profession) to the effect your fitness to practise is impaired.
104. A caution or conviction includes a caution or conviction you have received in the UK for a criminal offence, as well as a conviction received elsewhere for an offence which, if committed in England and Wales, would constitute a criminal offence. Please do not notify the NMC of motoring offences where you received a fixed penalty (unless it led to a disqualification of driving) or offences that have previously been considered by the NMC. See our website for further information on protected cautions and convictions (www.nmc.org.uk/cautions-convictions).
105. We expect you to be in a state of health that ensures you are capable of safe and effective practice without supervision, after any reasonable adjustments are made by your employer.
106. This does not mean there must be a total absence of any disability or health condition. Many people with disabilities or health conditions are able to practise effectively with or without adjustments to support their practice.
107. It is up to you to decide whether your health allows you to be capable of safe and effective practice. If you are satisfied with your decision then you do not need to provide us with any further information apart from your declaration (see below).

How to record health and character declarations

108. If your health and character are sufficiently good to enable you to practise safely and effectively in accordance with the Code, and you do not have any charges, cautions, convictions or determinations to declare, you do not need to keep any information as part of this requirement. Your confirmer does not need to check that you have met this requirement.

109. If you do need to declare any charges, cautions, convictions or determinations you will need to keep evidence of these to provide us with further information. You do not need to inform your confirmer of any declaration because we will be assessing these declarations ourselves.

Paragraph 23.2 of the Code states that you must inform us and any employers you work for at the first reasonable opportunity of any caution or charge against you, or if you have received a conditional discharge in relation to, or have been found guilty of, a criminal offence (other than a protected caution or conviction).

What you need to tell us in your online application

110. You need to declare that your health and character are sufficiently good to enable you to practise safely and effectively in accordance with the Code.

111. You will be asked to declare if you have received a police charge, caution or conviction, other than a protected caution or conviction, or an adverse determination by a professional or regulatory body.
The requirement

112. You must declare that you have, or will have when practising, appropriate cover under an indemnity arrangement.22

The purpose of this requirement

113. By law, you must have in place an appropriate indemnity arrangement in order to practise and provide care. While the arrangement does not need to be individually held by you, it is your responsibility to ensure that appropriate cover is in force.

How to meet the requirement

114. You will need to complete this declaration as part of your revalidation application.

115. Most employers provide appropriate indemnity cover for their employees. If you are employed you should check this with your employer(s). Further information is available from the NHS Employer’s website here (www.nhsemployers.org/your-workforce/retain-and-improve/standards-and-assurance/professional-regulation/professional-indemnity-cover/professional-indemnity-cover-qas).

116. Please refer to our information on professional indemnity arrangements for nurses and midwives when making this declaration (www.nmc.org.uk/indemnity). This document defines ‘appropriate cover’ and sets out information for those who are employed, self-employed or undertake work in both employed and self-employed roles. It also sets out information for those who work in education, undertake voluntary work, or are having a break in their practice.

117. If it is discovered that you are practising as a nurse or midwife without an appropriate indemnity arrangement in place, you will be removed from the NMC register and unable to practise as a nurse or midwife.
How to record your professional indemnity arrangement

118. Your declaration will be made as part of your revalidation application.

119. We strongly recommend that you retain evidence that you have an appropriate arrangement in place.

120. If your arrangement is provided through membership of a professional body or a private insurance arrangement, your declaration should be based on having in place an indemnity arrangement which provides ‘appropriate cover’ in relation to your individual scope of practice, as explained in information on professional indemnity arrangements for nurses and midwives. Please note that you will need to justify decisions on cover you put in place or rely on, if we request you to do so.

121. Your confirmmer does not need to check that you have met this requirement.

What you need to tell us in your online application

122. You need to inform the NMC whether your indemnity arrangement is through your employer, membership of a professional body, or a private insurance arrangement. Alternatively, you will be able to inform us that you are not practising at this time but that you intend to have appropriate cover in place before you practise.

123. You are required to have appropriate cover in place for all of your current practice settings. If you are currently practising in more than one setting, please tell us first about your arrangement in relation to your main practice setting. Please then add other arrangements to cover all your current practice settings.

124. If your indemnity arrangement is provided through membership of a professional body or a private insurance arrangement, you will be asked to provide the name of the professional body or provider.
The process

125. We will ask you for information for the purpose of verifying the declarations you have made in your application.24

126. This will be a declaration that you have demonstrated to an appropriate confirmer that you have complied with the revalidation requirements. We have provided a form for you to use to obtain this confirmation.

127. We will ask you to provide the name, NMC Pin or other professional identification number (where relevant), email, professional address and postcode of the confirmer.

The purpose of confirmation

128. Confirmation encompasses several benefits for nurses and midwives. It will provide assurance, increase support and engagement between nurses and midwives and their confirmers, and make nurses and midwives more accountable for their own practice and improvement. It should support nurses and midwives by increasing their access to appraisals.

129. The interactive nature of the confirmation process should reduce professional isolation and encourage a culture of sharing, reflection and improvement.

130. Ultimately, the confirmation process is designed to increase professionalism by making nurses and midwives more accountable for their practice and improvement. This requirement also gives us an additional layer of assurance that nurses and midwives are complying with the revalidation requirements.

131. Confirmation is not about judging whether a nurse or midwife is fit to practise, or an assessment against the requirements of their current/former employment.

How to obtain confirmation

132. The confirmation process involves having a discussion about your revalidation with an appropriate confirmer. We recommend that you obtain confirmation through a face-to-face discussion or video conference.

133. As part of that discussion, you will demonstrate to that confirmer that you have complied with all of the revalidation requirements, except professional indemnity arrangement and health and character, as set out in this guidance.

134. We recommend that you obtain your confirmation during the final 12 months of the three year renewal period to ensure that it is recent. If your confirmation was obtained earlier, we may ask you to explain why.

135. If your confirmer is a nurse or midwife, your reflective discussion can form part of the confirmation discussion. If your confirmer is not a nurse or midwife, you will need to have your reflective discussion with an NMC-registered nurse or midwife before your confirmation discussion with your confirmer.
We have provided further information about the role of confirmers in guidance which you should ensure your confirmer has read.

An appropriate confirmer

Your line manager is an appropriate confirmer, and we strongly recommend that you obtain confirmation from your line manager wherever possible. A line manager does not have to be an NMC-registered nurse or midwife.

If you do not have a line manager, you will need to decide who is best placed to provide your confirmation. Wherever possible we recommend that your confirmer is an NMC-registered nurse or midwife. It is helpful if they have worked with you or have a similar scope of practice, but this is not essential.

If that is not possible, you can seek confirmation from another healthcare professional that you work with and who is regulated in the UK. For example, you could ask a doctor, dentist or a pharmacist. You will need to record their profession and professional Pin or registration number.

If you do not have a line manager, or access to an NMC-registered nurse or midwife or another healthcare professional, please check our online confirmation tool for further guidance as to who can act as a confirmer in this situation at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/what-you-need-to-do/confirmation.

If your confirmer is an NMC-registered nurse or midwife, they must have an effective registration with the NMC. We may not be able to verify your application if your confirmation was provided by a person who was subject to any kind of suspension, removal or striking-off order at the time of making the confirmation.

Obtaining confirmation if you work wholly overseas

If you work wholly overseas, you can seek confirmation from your line manager where you undertake your work.

If you do not have a line manager, you will need to decide who is best placed to provide your confirmation. Wherever possible we recommend that your confirmer is a nurse or midwife regulated where you practise, or another regulated healthcare professional. Our online confirmation tool provides further guidance as to who can act as a confirmer in this situation.

Obtaining confirmation if you have more than one line manager

If you have more than one employer or undertake more than one role, you only need to obtain one confirmation. You will need to decide which line manager is most appropriate to provide confirmation that you have met the revalidation requirements.

We recommend that you have your revalidation discussion and obtain confirmation through the line manager where you undertake the majority of your work. You may choose to have a revalidation discussion with each of your line managers, and bring the outputs of those discussions to the line manager you think is most appropriate to be your confirmer.
Confirmation and appraisals

146. The revalidation process is designed so that it can form part of an appraisal process, and where possible we recommend that you use your annual appraisal to have your revalidation discussion and obtain confirmation.

147. If your line manager is an NMC-registered nurse or midwife, you might like to have your reflective discussion at the same time as your confirmation discussion as part of your annual appraisal.

148. However, it is not a requirement of revalidation that you obtain your confirmation as part of an appraisal.

How to record confirmation

149. We have provided an NMC form you must use to record your confirmation. Your confirmer will need to complete and sign this form.

150. You should keep the completed and signed form.

What you need to tell us in your online application

151. You will be asked to enter the name, NMC Pin or other professional identification number (where relevant), email, professional address including postcode and contact number of your confirmer. If your confirmer is not your line manager or an NMC registrant, you will also need to provide details of their profession and regulation.

152. We will also ask you whether you have a regular appraisal and whether you have a line manager who is an NMC-registered nurse or midwife so that we understand what level of support was available to you in completing your revalidation application.
Before you apply

- Set up an NMC Online account.
  You will need to submit your application through NMC Online. You can also check your renewal date and revalidation application date on NMC Online. We have published a step-by-step guide to registering for NMC Online at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/nmc-online.

- Keep your contact details up to date so that we can notify you when your revalidation application is due.
  The most common reason for lapsed registration (and illegal practice) is a failure to keep the NMC updated on your contact details.

- Make sure you know when your revalidation application is due.
  You must submit your application by the date we specify. You may affect our ability to process your revalidation application if you do not submit your application by this date, and the renewal of your registration may be at risk as a result.

- Make sure that you have all your supporting evidence to hand when you start your online application.

- Please contact the NMC well in advance of your revalidation application date if you require a reasonable adjustment for using NMC Online (see Alternative support arrangements section below).

The online application

153. Your online application opens 60 days before your revalidation application date.
154. During this 60 day period you will need to log into your application via NMC Online and address each of the requirements.

Contacting your employer or any other relevant third party

155. As part of your application process we may need to contact your employer or any other relevant third party who can verify the information that you have provided in your application.
156. In your online application you will be asked to provide consent for this purpose.

Equality and diversity information

157. As part of the online application process you will be asked to supply some equality and diversity information. We will use this information to monitor our services and make sure we are treating everyone in a fair and equal way. The questions have been designed to gather data about our service users in relation to the characteristics protected by the law under the Equality Act 2010.

158. We will keep the information from this questionnaire confidential and store it in line with the Data Protection Act 1998 and the NMC’s Data Protection Policy. By submitting this sensitive personal information to us, you explicitly consent to the collection and processing of your sensitive personal information in accordance with the NMC’s Data Protection Policy.

159. Providing this information is optional and will not affect your revalidation application or registration renewal. If you would prefer not to disclose this information you can select the ‘prefer not to say’ option for any/all of the questions.

Paying your fee

160. Alongside your revalidation application you need to pay your annual registration fee every year to maintain your registration with the NMC. Your registration will not be renewed until we have received your payment.

161. Please refer to our guidance on paying your fees at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/staying-on-the-register/paying-your-fee. This sets out the different ways that you can pay, including by direct debit and by debit or credit card, as well as how to pay your fee in four quarterly instalments.

162. As a registered UK tax payer you can also claim tax relief on the NMC registration fees. HM Revenue and Customs (HMRC) allows individuals to claim tax relief on professional subscriptions or fees which have to be paid in order to carry out a job. Registration fees paid to us are included in this category. Please refer to our guidance on how to claim tax relief on your fee at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/staying-on-the-register/tax-relief.

After you have completed your application

163. After you have completed your online application you will be offered the option of printing a paper copy of your application for your records.

164. Once your application has been successfully processed and your payment has been received we will send you an email confirming that your registration has been renewed.

165. We advise you to search the register on our website at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/search-the-register to double check your status.

Details of our Data Protection Policy are included in our privacy notice at www.nmc.org.uk/privacy.
Alternative support arrangements

166. We recognise that some nurses and midwives plan to renew their registration with the NMC but need alternative arrangements to support them through the process. Below we set out the circumstances in which we will consider offering alternative arrangements. For further information on the support we can offer and how to apply for this support please see our guidance sheet on alternative support arrangements at revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

Reasonable adjustments for using NMC Online

167. We will make reasonable adjustments for nurses and midwives who have a disability which means that they may find using NMC Online difficult. If you require a reasonable adjustment to be made, you must contact the NMC well in advance of your application date so that we can consider your request and make any necessary adjustments.

Arrangements for exceptional circumstances

168. We recognise there might be some circumstances when nurses and midwives cannot meet the revalidation requirements. There are two types of exceptional circumstances:

- you have not been in practice for sufficient time between October 2015 when the revalidation guidance was published and your revalidation application date (for example, if you have been on maternity leave or sick leave) to meet the additional requirements, or
- a relevant protected characteristic under the Equality Act 2010 (such as pregnancy and maternity, or disability) may affect your ability to meet one or more of the requirements at any time.

169. If you are able to establish that exceptional circumstances apply in your case, you will still need to meet the previous Prep renewal requirements.

Requesting an extension to submit your application

170. We will not usually consider any requests for extensions to submit a revalidation application. You should have met the requirements during the three years prior to the renewal of your registration.

171. However, if you believe that you have a good reason why you cannot submit your revalidation application by the specified date, you can request an extension once your revalidation application opens 60 days before your revalidation application date.

172. We are only able to grant an extension prior to the date your registration is due to lapse. We will grant extensions up to a maximum of six weeks.

173. In granting an extension, we will take into account:

- whether you have contacted the NMC in advance of the date your revalidation application is due;
- the reason why you cannot submit your revalidation application by the specified date;
- whether you are capable of completing the outstanding revalidation requirements and submitting your application within the additional period of time;
- whether there are any concerns about your fitness to practise, and
- whether the annual registration fee has been or will be paid by the required date.

174. Please note that if we grant you an extension to your application submission date, you must still pay your annual registration fee by your original revalidation application date.
175. Each year we will select a sample of nurses and midwives to provide further information or evidence to verify their application. Such a request does not necessarily mean that there are any concerns about your application and you can continue to practise while we review the information that you provide.

176. Where possible we will notify you immediately after you have submitted your application and made your payment if you have been selected to provide further information. If this is not possible we will contact you by email within 24 hours of you submitting your revalidation application and making your payment. Please check your email during this time.

177. If you are selected to provide further information, you will need to complete an online form where you will be asked to provide further information. We may also request further evidence. We will ask you to provide this information within 21 days of receiving your notice that you have been selected for verification a reasonable time. Please note that although your registration will not lapse during the verification process, your registration will not be renewed until the verification process is complete.

178. The table overleaf sets out the information that you will need to provide if you are selected to provide further information. You should already have this information so you should not need to seek any additional information.

179. We will contact your confirmer to request further information. Please ensure that your confirmer is aware that if they do not respond to our request for verification they may put your revalidation application at risk. We may also contact your employer and reflective discussion partner.

180. If we identify that you have not complied with the revalidation requirements, or you submit fraudulent information, your registration might be at risk. Please note that if you do not engage fully with the verification process your registration could lapse and you would have to apply for readmission.

181. The verification process must be completed within three months of your renewal date.
Verification information

Practice hours
You will need to provide the following information, starting with your most recent practice until you demonstrate the minimum number of practice hours required:

- dates of practice;
- the number of hours you undertook;
- name, address and postcode of the organisations;
- scope of practice and work setting (see tip box on page 20);
- a description of the work you undertook, and
- if practising overseas, whether you are registered with the appropriate regulating body.

We may contact your employer for further information, and you may also be asked to provide further evidence of practice hours.

If you are using a completed return to practice course for your practice hours requirement, or you have been admitted to another part of the register since you last renewed your registration or joined the register, please see our guidance sheet on return to practice and new registration at www.revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information for further information.

Continuing professional development
You will need to provide the following information:

- the CPD method;
- a brief description of the topic and how it relates to your practice;
- the dates the CPD activity was undertaken;
- the number of hours and participatory hours, and
- identification of the part of the Code most relevant to the CPD.

You may also be asked to provide evidence of the CPD activity.

Reflective discussion
You will not need to upload a copy of the signed reflective discussion form. We may contact your reflective discussion partner regarding your discussion.

Professional indemnity arrangement
You are required to have appropriate cover in place for all of your current practice settings. If your arrangement is provided through membership of a professional body or a private insurance arrangement you will be asked to confirm a) that you have read and understood our information on professional indemnity arrangements for nurses and midwives; b) that you have in place an indemnity arrangement which provides “appropriate cover”, in relation to your individual scope of practice, as explained in information on professional indemnity arrangements for nurses and midwives; and c) that you understand that you will need to justify decisions on cover you put in place or rely on, if we request you to do so. If you are currently practising in more than one setting, please tell us first about your arrangement in relation to your main practice setting, followed by any other arrangements to cover all your current practice settings.

Confirmation
You will not need to upload a copy of the signed confirmation form. We will contact your confirmer using the contact details you provided us in your initial application. Please ensure that your confirmer is aware that if they do not respond to our request for verification they may put your revalidation application at risk.
182. If an employer, a nurse or midwife, or any other individual becomes aware of a serious concern about the fitness to practise of another nurse or midwife they should raise it promptly through our fitness to practise procedures. All nurses and midwives have a professional duty to raise a concern about the practice of another nurse or midwife either through their employer or directly with us. They should not wait until a nurse or midwife’s renewal is due to raise such a fitness to practise concern.

183. Revalidation does not create a new way of raising such a fitness to practise concern about a nurse or a midwife, and the confirmation stage of revalidation does not involve making a judgment as to whether a nurse or midwife is fit to practise.

184. If you are subject to an NMC investigation, condition(s) of practice order or a caution, you will be able to apply to renew your registration as long as you fulfil all the requirements for renewal. However, you will remain subject to NMC fitness to practise processes and the outcome of those processes.

185. If you have been struck off the register, you are not able to revalidate because you are no longer on the register. You will need to apply for restoration to the register.

For more information on restoration please see www.nmc.org.uk/concerns-nurses-midwives/information-under-investigation/restoration

186. If you are suspended from the register, you are not able to revalidate during your suspension. Following cessation of your suspension, if your registration is effective you will need to comply with the revalidation requirements at the time that your registration is due to be renewed. If your registration is not effective following the cessation of your suspension, you will need to follow the readmission process.
CANCELLING YOUR REGISTRATION

187. You may not want to retain one or all your registrations with us.

- For example you may wish to cancel all of your registrations with us if you have moved abroad, have retired from practice or changed career;
- Alternatively you may wish to cancel one of your registrations if you wish to continue practising in one but not the other. For example if you are registered as both a nurse and a midwife but only wish to continue practising as a midwife you may want to cancel your nursing registration.

Please note that if you are receiving pay as a nurse or midwife whilst on maternity, sick or annual leave you may need to maintain your registration with us throughout this period.

188. If you wish to cancel at the time of your revalidation application, you can do this online through the online revalidation application.

189. If you want to cancel your registration when you are not due for revalidation, you must submit an ‘application to lapse your registration’ form.

190. You will need to provide your NMC Pin, full name, contact address, the reason for cancelling and a declaration stating that you are not aware of any matter which could give rise or has given rise to a fitness to practise allegation being made against you.

Information on cancelling your NMC registration is available on our website at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/leaving-the-register/cancelling-registration/.

191. You will not be able to practise or present yourself as a registered nurse or midwife in the UK if you cancel your registration with the NMC. It is a criminal offence to falsely represent yourself as being on the register, or on part of it, or to use a title to which you are not entitled.

192. If you choose to cancel your registration, and later wish to resume practising as a nurse or midwife in the UK, please refer to our guidance on readmission to the register at www.nmc.org.uk/registration/returning-to-the-register.
193. If you apply for readmission within six months of lapsing your registration when your revalidation was due, you will have to meet some of the revalidation requirements in addition to the usual readmission requirements, unless you are able to demonstrate that exceptional circumstances apply. These additional revalidation requirements are:
- 20 of your 35 CPD hours must be participatory
- Five pieces of practice related-feedback
- Five written reflective accounts
- Reflective discussion

Failure to revalidate and appeals

195. If you fail to submit your revalidation application before the end of your three year renewal period, your registration will lapse (automatically expire). If you want to come back on to the register, you will need to apply for readmission.

196. If you submit an application for revalidation, but you fail to meet the revalidation requirements and your application to renew your registration is refused as a result, you may appeal this decision within 28 days of the date on your decision letter.30

197. A notice of appeal should be made in writing and include:
- your name, address and NMC Pin;
- the date, nature and other relevant details of the decision against which the appeal is brought;
- a concise statement of the grounds of the appeal;
- the name and address of your representative (if any) and a statement as to whether the NMC should correspond with that representative concerning the appeal instead of you;
- a statement that the notice is a notice of appeal;
- a signature by or on behalf of you, and
- a copy of any documents that you propose to rely on for the purposes of your appeal.31

A notice of appeal should be sent to ragsupport@nmc-uk.org.

198. However, if you failed to pay the registration fee or to submit an application form at all within the required timescale and your application to renew your registration is refused as a result, you do not have a right of appeal.32

199. If you do not renew your registration and lapse from the register, you are no longer a registered nurse or midwife. It is an offence to falsely represent yourself as being on the register, or on part of it, or to use a title to which you are not entitled.33 If you lapse from the register you need to be careful not to mislead people into thinking you are on the register.
You must use this form to record five written reflective accounts on your CPD and/or practice-related feedback and/or an event or experience in your practice and how this relates to the Code. Please fill in a page for each of your reflective accounts, making sure you do not include any information that might identify a specific patient, service user or colleague. Please refer to our guidance on preserving anonymity in the guidance sheet on non-identifiable information in How to revalidate with the NMC.

Reflective account:

| What was the nature of the CPD activity and/or practice-related feedback and/or event or experience in your practice? |
| --- | |

| What did you learn from the CPD activity and/or feedback and/or event or experience in your practice? |
| --- | |

| How did you change or improve your practice as a result? |
| --- | |

| How is this relevant to the Code? |
| --- | |
| Select one or more themes: Prioritise people – Practise effectively – Preserve safety – Promote professionalism and trust |

You must use this form to record your reflective discussion with another NMC-registered nurse or midwife about your five written reflective accounts. During your discussion you should not discuss patients, service users or colleagues in a way that could identify them unless they expressly agree, and in the discussion summary section below make sure you do not include any information that might identify a specific patient or service user. Please refer to Guidance sheet 1 in How to revalidate with the NMC for further information.

Confirmation checklist of revalidation requirements

Practice hours

- You have seen written evidence that satisfies you that the nurse or midwife has practised the minimum number of hours required for their registration.

Continuing professional development

- You have seen written evidence that satisfies you that the nurse or midwife has undertaken 35 hours of CPD relevant to their practice as a nurse or midwife.

- You have seen evidence that at least 20 of the 35 hours include participatory learning relevant to their practice as a nurse or midwife.

- You have seen accurate records of the CPD undertaken.
Practice-related feedback

☐ You are satisfied that the nurse or midwife has obtained five pieces of practice-related feedback.

Written reflective accounts

☐ You have seen five written reflective accounts on the nurse or midwife’s CPD and/or practice-related feedback and/or an event or experience in their practice and how this relates to the Code, recorded on the NMC form.

Reflective discussion

☐ You have seen a completed and signed form showing that the nurse or midwife has discussed their reflective accounts with another NMC-registered nurse or midwife (or you are an NMC-registered nurse or midwife who has discussed these with the nurse or midwife yourself).

I confirm that I have read Information for confirmers, and that the above named NMC-registered nurse or midwife has demonstrated to me that they have complied with all of the NMC revalidation requirements listed above over the three years since their registration was last renewed or they joined the register as set out in Information for confirmers.

I agree to be contacted by the NMC to provide further information if necessary for verification purposes. I am aware that if I do not respond to a request for verification information I may put the nurse or midwife’s revalidation application at risk.

PRACTICE HOURS LOG TEMPLATE

Guide to completing practice hours log

To record your hours of practice as a registered nurse and/or midwife, please fill in a page for each of your periods of practice. Please enter your most recent practice first and then any other practice until you reach 450 hours. You do not necessarily need to record individual practice hours. You can describe your practice hours in terms of standard working days or weeks. For example if you work full time, please just make one entry of hours. If you have worked in a range of settings please set these out individually. You may need to print additional pages to add more periods of practice. If you are both a nurse and midwife you will need to provide information to cover 450 hours of practice for each of these registrations.

Please provide the following information for each learning activity, until you reach 35 hours of CPD (of which 20 hours must be participatory). For examples of the types of CPD activities you could undertake, and the types of evidence you could retain, please refer to our guidance sheet at www.revalidation.nmc.org.uk/download-resources/guidance-and-information.

Examples of types of feedback
- Verbal
- Letter or card
- Survey
- Report

Please provide the following information for each of your five pieces of feedback: You should not record any information that might identify an individual, whether that individual is alive or deceased. The section on non-identifiable information in How to revalidate with the NMC provides guidance on how to make sure that your notes do not contain any information that might identify an individual.

You might want to think about how your feedback relates to the Code, and how it could be used in your reflective accounts.
